Preface

Each member of the graduating class of 1967 leaves Louisburg High School with priceless remembrances. A friendly smile, a well-deserved grade, a word of praise from a teacher, a hard-won ball game--these are all gems that we would not sell at any price. Looking back over the past twelve years we recall how our teachers gave us coal and challenged us to produce diamonds. Diligently they worked to refine and mold our minds. Every experience will remain crystalized in our memories for years to come.

This year the annual staff has conscientiously tried to collect these jewels in a treasure chest for those who may thumb through its pages from time to time. We present to you our yearbook, THE CIRCLE 1967, which we hope will transmit to the future invaluable memories of this, the last of our twelve years.

Dedication

The history of Franklin County is a fascinating subject with one of its most important aspects being its school system. In Louisburg, public school was first held in the old Academy buildings of which only one still stands, the other having burned. The remaining structure, which is being restored by the Historical Society, was built about 1804 and opened in 1805. It did not actually become a public school until after the Civil War.

The old Academy

W. R. Mills Building

From there the school moved into the W. R. Mills Building which was constructed around 1905. With its auditorium and gymnasium, it was a wondrous improvement. But in time this faded and became inadequate, even with new cafeteria and home economics facilities.

Mills Cafeteria and Home Economics Department

Louisburg High School today

In 1961 the new Louisburg High School with its W. R. Mills Elementary section was opened. Its high school and elementary buildings, cafeteria, gymnasium, and auditorium provide a safer, more modern home for education in this area.

These three edifices are not merely buildings--they are monuments to the graduating classes who have passed through their halls and to the teachers, administrators, and parents who made it all possible. That is their significance; that is why we, the Class of 1967, dedicate this edition of THE CIRCLE to our school -- not only as it stands today, but as its predecessors have stood for more than a century and a half.

Principal's Message

To the Class of 1967 may I wish success and happiness. Each of you now takes your rightful place on the roster of Louisburg graduates. Remember that regardless of how many years may pass, this faculty will always have a genuine interest in your accomplishments. We hope that you will find time to return and share your experiences with us.

Senior Class

For eleven long years we had worked for and looked forward to this, our last year at Louisburg. Soon after our arrival at the Senior classrooms, we were hit with the usual barrage of money-making projects. First came the pork and chicken supper. Then we sold "Tom-Watt" gifts, FRANKLIN TIMES subscriptions, and socks. All these sales finally added up to an exciting and eventful trip to Washington and New York.

Now with fond memories of the Junior-Senior still on our minds as well as the swaying tassels of graduation, we stand on a bridge between two important stages of our lives. Looking back with heart-felt appreciation and ahead with hope, we can truthfully say that our years at Louisburg High School have meant a great deal to us.

Class Song

Tune: "Auld Lang Syne"

We leave thee now, oh Louisburg High,
And through the years to find,
Our joys, our tears, our love, our fears,
With thee we leave behind.

Now as we part, you leave with us
The fondest memories
Of days gone by, we worked and strived
To guide ourselves through thee.

For as we walk the paths of life,
We find we still can see
The hours we spent in deep content
We left behind with thee.

Michael Edwards

Class Poem

When the afterglow of sunset
Meets the margin of the sky,
Twelve new stars bespangle the darkness,
Each representing a year gone by.

The stars are but majestic mansions
Thickly inlaid with patines of gold.
Each built by nature's guiding hand
To stand alone, so gallant and bold.

The stillness of night is lingering on,
Its trodden road being dark and long;
For where some will always go right,
Others may forever go wrong.

Then glancing only here and there,
A twinkling ray shoots o'er some cloud.
And a little star looks forth alone
Clearing much way and guiding a crowd.

The night, now dappling, begins to wane.
And the morning steals upon the night
Dividing the darkness from the dawning
As the nocturne gradually melts from sight.

The sun brings forth its luminous mask
Lifting the veil of night for day.
Its light reveals a clearer horizon
To lend a hand along life's way.

Class History

In 1955 the Class of 1967 entered the first of twelve wonderful years of school. Our first six years at W. R. Mills School were a mixture of learning and mischief that only we could put together.

In Junior High we had to adjust to new subjects, new teachers, and a beautiful new school building. We came through these years, however, with the guidance of our understanding teachers.

Having pushed through eight years of school, forty green freshmen entered Louisburg High School in 1963. Our first high school advisors were Mrs. Marjorie Leonard and Mr. Eric Morgan. We elected our first class officers: Tucker Meyer, President; Terry Nash, Vice-President; Kay Rowe, Secretary; and Jimmy Wilson, Treasurer. Our Homecoming representative was Yvonne Dickerson. George Anne Ford and Cliff Edwards were our representatives in the Mr. and Miss LHS contest. Our first voices in the Student Council were Tucker Meyer and Jimmy Wilson. Determined to be included everywhere, many Freshmen were active in sports. When football season began Robert Patterson, Jimmy Wilson, Cliff Edwards, and Terry Nash were seen in the Bulldog line-up. The boys basketball team boasted three new freshmen: Cliff Edwards, Bobby Pleasants, and Jimmy Wilson. On the girls' team were Sandra Hall, Jackie Cassell, Margaret Webb, Anne Avent, and Connie Leonard. Robert Patterson represented the freshmen on the baseball diamond. At the end of our first year of high school, we had shown the school that we were willing to take our share of the responsibility.

At the beginning of our Sophomore year, we returned to school with the privilege of overlording the freshmen. We immediately got organized by electing our class officers: Blake York, President; Anne Avent, Vice-President; Cliff Edwards, Secretary; Tucker Meyer, Reporter; Crow Patterson, Treasurer; and Margaret Webb, Sergeant-at-Arms. Tucker Meyer was our representative in the Homecoming Court. Our candidates, Kay Rowe and Crow Patterson, were chosen as Mr. and Miss LHS during the Harvest Festival. Our Sophomore year was also filled with group activities. Kay Rowe and Anne Avent were our Student Council members. Later, at mid-term, Fran McFarland and Connie Leonard joined the ranks of Beta Club. Under the guidance of Mrs. Marjorie Leonard and Miss Betsy Crawford our Sophomore year was a busy, but successful, one.

When we became Juniors, we were well prepared to take many positions of leadership in our school. Our third year we got down to business by first electing class officers: Terry Nash, President; Fran McFarland, Vice-President; Blake York, Secretary; Tucker Meyer, Treasurer; Jimmy Wilson, Reporter; and Michael Edwards, Sergeant-at-Arms. Blake York was tapped by the Beta Club. Jackie Cassell became assistant-editor of SCHOOL DAZE and Tucker Meyer, the assistant-editor of the CIRCLE. We were also included in school social affairs. Margaret Webb and Terry Nash were our representatives in the Mr. and Miss LHS popularity contest. Our representative, Anne Avent, was chosen Homecoming Queen. In school government Jackie Cassell and Fran McFarland were our Student Council members. Anne Avent moved to the post of Vice-President of the Council. The Class of '67 became leaders in sports as well as school clubs. We added several members to the baseball team our Junior year. Crow Patterson, Ronald Peoples, Terry Nash, Mike Carter, Mike Fuller, and Billy Faulkner were seen in action during the baseball games.

Our eleventh year was bursting with important business. We chose "Mardi Gras" as the theme of our Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom. We worked hard to make the event a success. We owe many thanks to our advisors, Mrs. Jewel Bartholomew and Mrs. Evelyn Williamson.

After three years of experience, we felt like "old pros" when we returned to school our Senior year. Following the usual procedure, we elected class officers: Mike Carter, President; Curt Dunn, Vice-President; Glenda Henley, Secretary; Jackie Cassell, Treasurer; Tucker Meyer, Reporter; and Terry Nash, Sergeant-at-Arms. We became leaders in all school activities. We were represented in every sport. On the football team were Mike Carter, Terry Nash, Crow Patterson, Curt Dunn, Leon Dillard, and Bill Shelton. Mike Carter and Crow Patterson were elected Captains. On the boys' basketball team were Crow Patterson, Ronald Peoples, and Cliff Edwards. Anne Avent, Jackie Cassell, and Connie Leonard were elected Captains of the girls' team. Bill Shelton was in his third year on the golf team. In Beta Club, Jackie Cassell, Anne Avent, and Tucker Meyer were added to the membership. Jackie Cassell was editor of the SCHOOL DAZE, and Tucker Meyer was editor of the CIRCLE. Anne Avent was President of the Student Council. In the social whirl, Yvonne Dickerson and Leon Dillard were our candidates for Mr. and Miss LHS. Fran McFarland was chosen Homecoming Queen.

When we look back at the past twelve years, they seem to have flown by. Now we must leave Louisburg High and twelve years, wonderful years, behind. Now we look to the future with solid determination and high hopes for goals still to be reached.

Last Will and Testament

ARTICLE I

To our dear Alma Mater, we finally bid farewell and leave a thousand fond memories of our fun-filled high school years.

ARTICLE II

To our parents and friends we leave our deepest gratitude, appreciation, and thanks for all the years of patience, guidance, love and understanding without which we could not have reached our goal.

ARTICLE III

To Mr. Fox we leave a book entitled HOW TO PLEASE EVERYONE IN TEN EASY STEPS.
To Mrs. Arnold we leave a two-week, all-expense-paid vacation to Hawaii, so that she can take off while next year's Seniors struggle ALONE through suppers, dances, and TOM-WATT sales.
To Mrs. Hobgood, we leave two new teachers for the science department and say, "Thanks for everything—we know it was rough on you, too."
To Mrs. Bartholomew we leave "The Ten Commandments of Grammatical Don'ts" to be posted in every corner of every room, in hopes that a little will sink in throughout the student body.
To Mrs. Bland we leave a year's supply of brownies so that no one can "fudge" on her tests.
To Mr. Bolton we leave basketball and football teams with excellent scholastic averages and spotless conduct records in order that he will be free from worries from now on.
To Mrs. Williamson we leave a guarantee that at least things can't get any worse now that we've gone.
To Mr. Morgan we leave our brilliant, mathematically-inclined minds for encouragement when he gets discouraged with next year's advanced math class.
To Mrs. Leonard we leave a year's supply of unbreakable cups and saucers as a safety precaution against rowdy boys.
To Mrs. Moss we leave a '67 Mustang so that she will never feel a "burden" to all the boys who so reluctantly carted her around.

ARTICLE IV

To the rising Seniors we leave an empty treasury and the busiest year they will ever live through.
To the rising Juniors we leave our many "hundreds" of magazine subscriptions that must be renewed before the new ones are sold.
To the rising Sophomores we leave seniority over Freshmen, and remind them that they have three more years in which to do what they didn't get done this year.
To the rising Freshmen we say "good luck" with hopes that they will make the most of the four wonderful years ahead of them.

ARTICLE V

Anne Avent leaves Louisburg!
Dickie Broome leaves his high SAT scores to Craig Sledge.
Jo Frances Bunn leaves her quiet and shy ways to Mattie Kearney.
Marlene Burnette leaves her incomparable giggle to Wayne Finch, to give him something to remember her by.
Mike Carter leaves his position on the football team to Noel Smith, in hopes that Noel will lead the Bulldogs in a much better season next year.
Jackie Cassell leaves her long and dangling earrings to Marilyn Stewart, who is sure to have good use for them.
Maxine Davis leaves to her sister, Shirley Davis, the ability to become a Senior.
Yvonne Dickerson leaves her position as class "runt" to Betsy May.
Leon Dillard leaves his easy handling of a mean Corvair to Doug Estep.
Curt Dunn leaves a diary full of puzzling bookkeeping questions to Mrs. Arnold.
Michael Edwards leaves his job as a meat-market man for A & P to anyone with warm blood and a strong stomach.
Bertha Engram wills to Paul Engram the willingness to let destiny be the wheel to his future of success.
Billy Faulkner leaves his tendency to turn red to James Stone.
Brenda Finch leaves her typing eraser to Jenia Loftin.
George Anne Ford leaves her love for collecting dogs to the Louisburg Dog Catcher.
Mike "Jerry Lewis" Fuller leaves his Joe E. Brown mouth to Johnny Hodges who has quite a sizable one himself.
Patricia Gill wills to Martha and Ruffin Gill the willingness to strive for higher and even greater goals.
Carol Goodwin gladly leaves, but takes "Hermie" with her.
Sandra Kearney Hall leaves her imaginative questions to James Berger.
Glenda Henley leaves her love for water sports to Frances Murphy who is slowly but surely developing a desire for them.
Steve Hight leaves his job as statistician to E.H. Smith in hopes that E.H. does just as good a job.
Maurice Jones leaves his boisterous laugh to anyone who thinks he can top it.
Abe Kemp leaves his collection of Bridgestones to the rising Senior Class "Angels."
Mary "Lucy" King leaves her ability to do hilarious impersonations to Tracey Winn who seems to lead a fun life herself.
Bettie Lavender leaves her love for E.C.C. to Sandie Versteeg who seems to dig it quite a lot herself.
Connie Leonard leaves her arts-and-crafts abilities to the elementary grades.
Lalage Marks leaves her quiet personality to Mary Anne Moon.
Tucker Meyer leaves a new ten-volume set of books on the history of the English language to be used on Mrs. Bland's reference shelf in the library.
Terry Nash leaves his methods of torture to Mr. Fox.
Robert "Crow" Patterson also leaves to Mr. Fox his famous "eee . . . ee" call. It seems that Mr. Fox just can't quite get the knack of it.
Ronald "Odie" Peoples leaves his ability to skip classes and drive the activity bus to Charles Toney who might do an even better job than Odie.
Bobby "Kink" Pleasants leaves, and wishes everyone as much luck with squirrel-hunting as he has had during his high school career.
Bill Riggan leaves his effervescent, radiant smile to Mike McBride.
Phyllis Shearin leaves her love for a good time anytime, anywhere, to Rita Patterson.
Bill Shelton leaves his love for golf to Matt Person.
Margaret Webb, one among the few who didn't cut her hair during the hair-cutting craze, leaves her beautiful blonde locks to Susan Pleasants.
Blake York leaves her love for "soul music" to Allen Driver.

Class Prophecy

Anne Avent is a water-skiing instructor at Florida's Cyprus Gardens.

Dickie Broome owns The Stork Club and The Copacabanna in New York City.

Jo Frances Bunn has recently opened a hairstyling academy in Chicago, Illinois.

Marlene Burnette was recently elected the first lady governor of North Carolina.

Mike Carter won the 1979 Indianapolis 500. They say he's making good use of the $670,000 prize money.

Jackie Cassell won an Olympic medal in the women's one-hundred-yard dash. (Wonder who was on the other end.)

Yvonne Dickerson, after being engaged for five years, finally got married. Her husband is a doctor specializing in respiratory ailments, especially asthma.

Leon Dillard is a lawyer. Recently he received a large inheritance and now plans to spend all this summer aboard his yacht anchored off the coast of France.

Curt Dunn is the head professor of philosophy at Harvard University.

Louise Edwards has decided that the best thing for any girl to do is get married. She has been happily married for ten years.

Michael Edwards is now the sole owner of the A & P Food Store chain. It's rumored that he receives a weekly salary of $500.

Bertha Engram sells registered poodles in her Washington, D.C. Pet Shop.

Billy Faulkner, the president of the National Cattlemen's Association, lives in his multi-million-dollar Texas ranch house with his wife and three children.

Brenda Finch is the head decorating consultant in a large New York department store.

George Anne Ford is a go-go dancer in her own Los Angeles night club.

Mike Fuller now has his own jazz band in Las Vegas, Nevada. By the way, Mike is the new owner of The Golden Nugget.

Patricia Gill is now a commercial artist living in her New York apartment.

Carol Goodwin is a professional figure skating champion in Sweden.

Sandra Hall has finally taken time out from school to have some children.

Glenda Henley sings for the Metropolitan Opera.

Steve Hight is now the M.C. of The Steve Hight Show seen every Sunday night on NBC.

Maurice Jones is now the head pharmacist for the Dow Chemical Company.

Abe Kemp has had the largest and best tobacco crop in North Carolina and Virginia every year since he started farming. He also owns the largest Bridgestone Company in the United States.

Mary King, the author of HOW TO SNAG A MAN WITHOUT REALLY TRYING, got married for the fifth time last month.

Bettie Lavender, the President's secretary, announced her engagement to the Secretary of State last night at a White House celebration.

Connie Leonard, always fond of children, has a kindergarten. Her own children make up half of her class.

Fran McFarland redecorated every room in the White House. (Her husband, the President, gave her permission to do so.)

Tucker Meyer, married to the Spanish ambassador, entertains foreign visitors as part of her job as Mistress of Foreign Affairs.

Terry Nash, one of the biggest pulpwood dealers in the nation, has decided to go back to college and become a lawyer.

Crow Patterson, a Duke graduate, has accepted a contract with the Green Bay Packers for the 1981 season.

Ronald Peoples has settled all Trailways-Greyhound disputes. He owns both companies.

Bill Riggan guides tourists up and down the Amazon River in South America during the rainy season.

Phyllis Shearin has taken over Edith Head's position as one of the most outstanding costume designers for Hollywood movie productions.

Bill Shelton is the new pro at the Green Hill Country Club.

Bobby Pleasants is the new game warden. So far, Cliff Edwards is the only person he has reported!

Margaret Webb is a professional model in New York City when she's not exhibiting her art in Europe.

Blake York, the dean of Sweet Briar, has the reputation of being the most lenient instructor the school has ever seen.

Junior Class

The Junior Class entered Louisburg High School in the fall of 1966 fully aware of their new responsibilities. During the year they sponsored a magazine sale and a candy sale. Both of these projects netted valuable funds for future class activities. Climaxing the year, the Junior-Senior was put on with more than customary finesse.

As the Juniors prepare to become Seniors, they feel more ready and able through this year's endeavors to face the unique challenge of their last year at Louisburg High.

Sophomore Class

The Sophomores began their second year of high school full of pride and expectations. At first, class meetings were boisterous, but as the year progressed, we got down to business. At one of the relatively quiet meetings, the class decided to sell doughnuts. We later sponsored a successful dance to the music of a class band. These projects brought us much money as well as fun.

Although this year has been filled with hard work, it has been highlighted with numerous exciting moments, too. As it comes to a close, we are eagerly awaiting our Junior year which promises to be even more eventful than this one.

Freshman Class

Even as the year began, the Freshman Class was well represented in most activities. They made their first step toward success when Freshmen Margo Raynor and Charlie Hobgood were chosen Mr. and Miss Louisburg High School. They also carried out a profitable stationery sale.

Upon the completion of a thoroughly successful year, the Class of 1970 is looking forward to an educational, successful, and enjoyable high school career.

The Cheerleaders and . . .

the Band kept things lively.

Although the Bulldogs suffered a disheartening defeat by South Granville, the 1966 Homecoming weekend was far from being a failure. At halftime Senior candidate Fran McFarland was crowned 1966 Homecoming Queen, and the memorable weekend was topped off Saturday night at the Green Hill Country Club with one of the best Homecoming dances yet, featuring music by the Playboys Combo.

The Bulldogs battled the South Granville Vikings.

Class Representatives

The 1966 Mr. and Miss L.H.S. candidates and their campaign managers worked diligently making campaign boxes and posters and soliciting votes from the time that the skits were given on October 11, until the last few rushed moments before the annual Harvest Festival fell into full swing on October 13. After enjoyable numbers from the talent show, the climax was reached when Freshman candidates Margo Raynor and Charlie Hobgood were crowned Mr. and Miss Louisburg High of 1966.

Youth Fitness Representatives

Representing Louisburg High in the Youth Fitness Conference last year were Robert Patterson, Jackie Cassell, Anne Avent, Connie Leonard, and Terry Nash. This conference, held at State University in Raleigh, emphasized the increasing needs and rewards of physical fitness in the lives of American citizens.

Girls' State Representatives

Last summer Jackie Cassell and Anne Avent attended the week-long session of Tar Heel Girls' State on the campus of UNC-G. These two girls were chosen by the Louisburg chapter of the American Legion Auxiliary on the basis of their scholastic achievement and leadership ability. At Girls' State they learned more about their state and local governments and discovered the duties of a responsible political citizen.

Circle Staff

By giving up badly needed study time and by combining our versatile personalities, the CIRCLE staff has brought forth a yearbook that we hope will be real competition for the yearbooks to follow. Though raising money and organizing this yearbook has cost us much time, effort, and strenuous thought, we are proud of our yearbook and we sincerely hope that you will be also.

Beta Club

The National Beta Club is an honor society in which a prospective member must maintain a 90 average for three semesters and acquire not lower than an A minus on conduct. The National Beta Club's objectives are to encourage effort, promote character, stimulate achievement among its members and to encourage students to further their education after graduation from high school.

Junior Beta Club

This is the first year that Junior Beta Club has been organized. The officers have carefully written the by-laws for the new club. Also, an annual project was chosen for the members to work on throughout the year.

Quill and Scroll

Quill and Scroll is the International Honorary Society for High School Journalists. Membership is a distinct honor and is reserved for those outstanding publications staff members who meet the basic requirements established by the Society and its Local Chapters. Candidates for Quill and Scroll membership must be juniors or seniors in the top third of their class and must have demonstrated fully that they merit the award through high scholarship, journalistic achievement, and service.

Scholastic Letter Society

The scholastic letter, symbol of the organization as well as scholastic achievement, is identical to the athletic letter except for one small thing -- it has a lamp of knowledge embroidered on it. This is awarded to any high school student who has maintained an A average for the school year. After receiving a letter, a student is given a bar each year if he maintains the standard.

Band Club

This year the band has been established as a club. It consists of students from grade eight to grade twelve who meet once a week for rehearsals in preparation for football games and parades. This year the Cheerleaders, led by Marilyn Stewart, had a very active year. Work began last summer with the selling of doughnuts to enable them to purchase new uniforms for basketball season.

During the summer the nine girls practiced hard so that they would be ready for the football games. The squad struggled through and were ready, willing, and waiting for basketball season with new cheers, new uniforms, and new goals set.

These girls did a good job of raising that ol' LHS school spirit and deserve a special vote of "thanks."

Senior Advice To:

The Rising Freshmen--Remember: "Fools rush in where angels fear to tread."

The Rising Sophomores--Enjoy the privilege of "Kicking the Freshmen Around."

The Rising Juniors--When you decorate for your Junior-Senior, don't think of it as a favor to Seniors, but as a "Program for the Betterment of Upperclassmen."

The Rising Seniors--Remember, when you reach for that diploma, you're receiving it IN SPITE of the things you've done and not FOR the things you've done.

The Student Body--Never watch television while studying. Remember: Hoss Cartwright did not discover America and Joan of Arc wasn't "Lost in Space."

The Student Body--When you get sick of looking at the same old teacher day after day, remember, they get tired of looking at you!

Mr. Fox--Stop eating at Chip's! We're watching you!

To the Policemen Who Guide Us to and from School--Quit while you're ahead!

To the Go-Home-for Lunch Bunch--Haste makes waste!

To Math Students--Always look smart and intelligent in Mr. Morgan's class, whether you are or not!

To Mrs. Williamson--Try buying 500 red pens.

To the Lunchroom--Try Hardie Huskees.
